SecurityHeadhunter.com, Inc. is a Florida based Security Search Firm specializing in recruitment and placement of Information Security and Risk Management talent. With over 10+ years of security recruiting expertise we know how and where to recruit that top security talent for your organization.

How are you currently recruiting security talent?

Perhaps you're using Job Boards, Career Fairs, or "general recruiting agencies". Ever found these resources to be ineffective or marginal at best for producing the type and quality of security talent required for your organization. These resources are often ineffective since the vast majority of security talent are not making themselves known publicly by visiting job boards or other services. As such, these potential candidates are essentially hidden from most employers and must be recruited directly! Don't worry, we know they exist and talk with them daily. That's our job! We're Security Headhunters.

SecurityHeadhunter.com benefits to you:

- Information Security & Risk Management Recruitment - "It's what we do everyday"
- Our database holds 1000s of security candidate resumes and grows everyday
- We actually know how to "cold call" recruit candidates for your jobs. Yeah, it still works!
- Our brand & reputation drive 100s of security professionals to our website monthly
- We actually understand security job specs and how to screen candidates for your job

There's no need to settle for marginal recruiting results on your next Security job search. Simply trust SecurityHeadhunter.com and our 10+ years of security recruiting expertise to produce the top talent you have been missing through other resources.

"One of the fastest growing security threats to organizations is the rise of sophisticated cyber criminals."

ABOUT US:

Wils Bell, our president, opened his own search firm in 1990. PRS, Inc. performed IT and very early security searches (RACF / ACF2). By the year 2000 Information Security concerns were on the minds of most large and medium sized organizations. As the need for Information Security talent grew within these companies so did our focus in the security area. As they say, the rest is history. Over the next several years we performed security searches under the PRS search firm name, but in early 2009 we were able to acquire the domain name SecurityHeadhunter.com. The decision was made to rename and re-brand the company to better reflect our specialty and expertise. The name change not only identifies our specialty, but has become our brand within the security search firm industry.
